

Since 1981 Edibles Etc.' client list has grown to include many of the best known companies in Central Florida. So, why has Edibles Etc. been so successful? "We've become one of the areas most referred caterers and that just doesn't happen overnight!" explains Sharon Nina, President and owner. "Our fresh home-made food and fantastic service make your event a hit, whether you are trying to increase your sales, impress your guests or just have a productive meeting"

Located in Altamonte Springs, Edibles Etc. is a woman owned business that has been honored as Orlando's "Number One" Caterer by the Orlando Business Journal. There is an emphasis on professionalism at Edibles Etc. enhanced by a staff that includes two American Culinary Federation Certified Executive Chefs, Culinary Institute of America Graduates, a Certified Professional Catering Executive, a Certified Culinary Educator and a member of the elite American Academy of Chefs.

"We understand that to give real service we need to provide something which can not be duplicated or bought and that is our sincerity and integrity toward our customers." says David Nina, Executive Vice President. "When you receive kudos on your event, we understand how that makes you feel. Things like impeccable cleanliness, timely delivery and setup, and an impressive presentation are some of the reasons so many companies continue to choose Edibles Etc."
